

Shame on the CBA. If I have an "established business relationship" with a banker, then they know that I don't need to be called on a regular basis, nor do I need a phone call to tell me of their "latest" news, programs, etc.